

Hedecton® cough syrup – induce productive cough naturally.

As unpleasant as a productive cough may be, it also has its benefits. It transports mucus accumulations together with pathogens out of the respiratory tract. For this reason, such a cough should not be suppressed, but rather supported and controlled with an expectorant:

Hedecton® cough syrup

A natural expectorant made from effective ivy leaf extract. In the cough process, the ingredients of the ivy leaf extract in Hedecton® cough syrup help the mucous membranes of the respiratory tract in 3 ways at the same time: they act as an expectorant, are spasmolytic and soothe the urge to cough. Furthermore, Hedecton® is effective in both productive coughs associated with a cold and bronchitis.

Hedecton® cough syrup comes with a practical dosage dispenser – so you can easily give it to your children, including infants and small children.
